

RioTinto

Who we are

- We are a leading global business; our vision is to be the global mining leader
- We employ more than more than 100,000 people and operate in more than 50 countries
- The Group finds, mines and processes the earth's mineral resources – metals and minerals essential for making thousands of everyday products that meet society's needs and contribute to improved living standards
- Wherever we operate, safety is our first priority
- Our commitment to sustainable development underpins the way our business operates
- We fulfil vital consumer needs and improve living standards
- In 2009, our underlying earnings were US$6.3 billion.

The slide includes five small square images at the bottom, each representing a different mineral or product: copper, iron ore, diamonds, pharmaceuticals, and steel pellets.

Rio Tinto Objective, strategy and vision

Rio Tinto's core objective is to maximise total shareholder return by sustainably finding, developing, mining and processing natural resources.

Our strategy is to invest in and operate large, long term, cost competitive mines and businesses, driven not by choice of commodity but rather by the quality of each opportunity

Our vision is to be the global mining leader, which means to maintain or achieve sector leadership, including:

- Operational excellence
- Sustainable development
- Exploration
- Innovation.
